

Communications Committee
27 February 2007

ELECTION OF THE VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE

Executive Summary and Recommendations

Introduction

Mr Pat McFadden was elected as Chairman of the Communications Committee at its last meeting on Friday 27 October 2006. Mr McFadden was the previous Vice-Chairman of the Communications Committee. The Committee is therefore asked to nominate a person to be appointed by the Council as Vice-Chairman of this committee. The term of office of Vice-Chairman is two years.

An email was sent to members of the Communications Committee in early February to alert them to the fact that nominations would be sought at this meeting.

Decision

The Committee is asked to nominate a person to be appointed by the Council as Vice-Chairman of this committee.

Background information

None

Resource implications

None

Financial implications

None

Appendices

Process for the election of Chairmen of Committees (please note that this process should be followed for the election of Vice and or Deputy Chairmen of Committees).

Date of paper

14 February 2007